

Activate Africa!

October 29-November 4

October 29 to November 4th is International Games Week.

US Embassy, South Africa
RELOSouthAfrica@state.gov
facebook.com/RELOSouthernAfrica

The Regional English Language Office at the US Embassy in Pretoria invites groups of English learner to play Activate Board Games. You can play at your school, with your English club, at a library, or at home with your family.

Take a photo of your group playing and we will include it in our Activate Africa video.

Send an email to activategamesafrica@gmail.com, Twitter or Facebook #ActivateGamesWeek. Include:

1. The number of people who played!
2. The name of your town city or school.
3. One or two photos. We don't need more. Your photos can
  - o show the group playing. We like action.
  - o show the group holding up the games somewhere outside.

By sending us your photo you are giving us permission to us it in the Activate South Africa video. Please clear with school if you have young learners.

Send this to us by November 7.

Who can play? Anyone. Students. English Clubs. Teachers at trainings. Families and friends at home or in parks.

What are they? Activate board games are simple speaking and thinking prompts that work for all levels. They are really easy to use.

Where do we get them? All the games are available for free download from the American English website: americanenglish.state.gov

New games (some with Africa themes) will appear through October on facebook.com/RELOSouthernAfrica. Just save and print!
